Jerusalem is totally unique – there is no other place like it. Jerusalem is one of the oldest cities globally, with a history going back 4000 years, offering a combination of ancient history, spiritual sanctity, and colorful cultures. Downtown Jerusalem is the busy city center and the heart of the modern metropolis. During the day is a shopping area with markets and sent, transforming at night into a bubbly nightlife area with endless dining options, bars, music, and culture to keep you awake all night long.

MACHNE YEHUDA MARKET

Located in the heart of the city, the Machne Yehuda Market (the shuk), integrates a bustling marketplace located within one of the city’s oldest neighborhoods. Machane Yehuda incorporates food, drink, shopping, bars, and restaurants. The shuk still retains its 19th century vibe, offering visitors a sensory overload with intoxicating smells and vibrant colors. Within two-block radius, visitors can taste their way through Jerusalem’s history, while meeting merchants whose family have worked here for over 100 years.
